

Brief C.V.
Of
Najib Yacoub Haboubi
Department of Pathology
Trafford General Hospital

Titles

- Consultant Histopathologist and Head of Department, Trafford General Hospital.
- Formerly (1984-1999) Head of Department University Hospital of South Manchester.
- Distinguished Professor of Liver and Gastrointestinal Pathology, University of Aleppo, Syria.
- Visiting Professor of Health Sciences, John Moore's University, Liverpool, UK.
- Honorary Professor of Surgical Pathology, Salford University, Manchester, UK.
- Director of Research & Development, Trafford General Hospital.

Career

- Trained in the Universities of Baghdad, Cardiff and Manchester.
- Lecturer in the University of Manchester for 2 years.
- Consultant Histopathologist for 24 years

Experience

I have wide experience in general histopathology and in particular liver and gastrointestinal tract.

Qualifications

M.B.,Ch.B.	Baghdad, Iraq	1971
D.Path	Baghdad ,Iraq	1974
MRCPath	UK	1979
FRCPath	UK	1991

Some of the Offices Held

A. Past

- Vice President, Section of Coloproctology, Royal Society of Medicine (ECCP).
- Council founder member of the Association of Coloproctology of Great Britain and Ireland.
- Executive Council Member of the European Council of Coloproctology and the UK representative
- Member of the Medical Ethical Committee, University Hospital of South Manchester, 1992 – 1995.

B. Current

- Secretary General of the European Council of Coloproctology
- Co-Editor of the Journal Colorectal Disease.
- Member of the Editorial Board, Techniques in Coloproctology.
- Founder member of the European Association of Coloproctology (EACP)
- Member of the Research Committees of the EACP and ECCP.

Publications

More than 100 published articles and chapters in international journals and four text books.

Lectures

Has been invited to lecture in well over 50 international meetings