NANTES

Nantes, France's "Western Capital" lies at the crossroads of three French provinces, the junction of northern and southern France, and the union of two traditional Gallic ways of life. It is the gateway to the central Loire Valley with its lush vineyards and legendary chateaux.

Nantes provides an exceptionally convivial atmosphere in which a first class convention centre, excellent hotels and restaurants and wonderful architecture are all found within easy walking distance of each other. Around every corner one will find beautiful frescoes, churches, mills and shopping galleries, yet within minutes, wonderful countryside and vineyards, can be found.

Nantes is just 50 kilometres from the coast including La Baule with its wonderful beaches. You can stroll along 350 kms of riverbanks, travel up the estuary to the neighboring town of St. Nazaire or visit the legendary Mont St. Michel.

CONGRESS VENUE

The meeting will be held at the International Convention Centre, situated in the centre of the city, just minutes away from the rail station, and 10 minutes on foot from the old town centre. The Centre provides state-of-the-art conference facilities and excellent areas for the trade exhibition and poster sessions.

TRAVEL TO NANTES

Nantes has excellent air and rail links with the rest of Europe. There are direct flights to many European cities including Madrid, London, Athens, Barcelona, and Geneva, in addition to several daily connecting flights from Paris Charles de Gaulle. Nantes airport is located just 10-15 minute taxi ride from the city centre. Further information about flight routes can be found at www.nantes.aeroport.fr.

The high-speed TGV to Paris (Montparnasse) takes just two hours; there are also TGV services frequently during the day to Lyon and Lille (4 hours).
