Complex Anal Fistulas

VAAFT: a new mini-invasive surgical treatment

Rapallo (Ge) - Italy

■ 1st edition: 24-25 February 2012

■ 2nd edition: 20-21 April 2012

■ 3rd edition: 6-7 July 2012

■ 4th edition: 26-27 October 2012

Dear Colleague,
 in 2011, six training courses were held on the subject of perianal fistulas, and in particular, on the new mini-invasive VAAFT (Video Assisted Anal Fistula Treatment) technique.

Participants came from Italy and from overseas countries.

Thus, the technique has spread to numerous other countries and, up to now, there have been numerous tutoring requests.

In 2012, the aim will be to enrich the scientific content of the courses and extend participation to a greater number of surgeons, given the large number of requests coming from all over the world.

The courses will be held in English language.

Each course is organized into lectures followed by live surgery in the operating room.

An expert Italian faculty is complemented by the most prominent surgeons worldwide like, Herand Abcarian from the USA, Francis Seow-Choen from Singapore, John Nicholls from the UK, Yehael Ziv and Andrew Zbar from Israel, Tomas Skricka from the Czech Republic with the aim to provide a platform for a stimulating exchange of ideas and experiences.

I'm looking forward to meeting you here in Rapallo!

Piercarlo Meinero
